Monarchies and Republics
 The Fastest Girl
 Napoleon's Horse's Tail
 Where the Money Is
 —By Arthur Brisbane

One quotation that ought to be framed in the White House, Senate, House of Representatives and Supreme Court, the signs should be about ten feet long, five feet high, and the letters very big, reading as follows, from Providence:

"Monarchies are destroyed by poverty and republics by wealth."

Never was more important truth put in fewer words, and never truth more important for this country.

When poverty and misfortune come in monarchies the people kick out their kings; take Germany recently, and France one hundred and fifty years ago, as examples.

When republics become too rich, wealth becomes too powerful, and individuals possessing it too arrogant, republics do not endure.

This country is safe enough, as far as need to be, but the wealth of the few is a danger to the many. But we have reached a stage in which wealth selects its own candidates. The people, with no other choice, elect one set. And that set takes its orders from those that originally selected it, not from the people that did the voting. That is going far enough on the wrong road. If you dislike the statement, ask yourself what your vote amounts to.

Miss Nina D. Holmes, twenty years old, working in the Detroit postoffice, is champion mail handler of the United States. In eight hours the young woman sorted out 25,000 letters. This means picking up the letter, looking at it, reading all the different handwritings, instantly and automatically knowing where the letter is going and putting it in its right place.

This performance is not merely extraordinary, it is miraculous. Incidentally, this young lady, mild, nervous and modest, ought not to be sorting letters, but to be running a business of a man should do that work. The young woman should be married and cleaning up her son in the White House or in some other useful place.

The Paris Museum of the Invalides, where Napoleon lies buried under the gilt dome, has many monuments of the great Arab—words, uniforms, banners, etc., beautifully stored by the Sultan of Turkey.

That's a little bit of a tale. Governor Cutler, many Americans have carried away the tail, one hair at a time.

You can imagine a pious Mohammedan giving his fortune for a hair from the beard of the prophet. Or even imagine the fanatic Arab having his eyes cut out after he had looked upon Mohammed's tomb. "Because Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

Divorcee to Buy Husband

Helpless Bargains in Love

Ex-Mate of Sprackles, Sugar King, Wants to Wed Husband of Woman Friend

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—An offer by Mrs. Edith Huntington Sprackles Wakefield, first wife of the late "Jack" Sprackles, California millionaire, and herself prominent in San Francisco society, to "buy" another woman's husband from her for $100 a month for the rest of her life, came to light here today and is admitted by all persons involved.

The husband, when Mrs. Wakefield is credited with having offered to "buy" is Rodney Kendrick, a newspaper artist. The wife, who is ill and admits she is "considering" the offer, said she already had given her wedding ring to Mrs. Wakefield. Mrs. Wakefield said she, too, planned a divorce.

A statement from Mrs. Wakefield said:

LOVES HER HUSBAND.

"It was a long time ago I told Mrs. Kendrick that I loved her husband and wanted to marry him. I promised her she would have a home with Rodney and myself as long as she lived. She is a very sick girl, and I took care of her for weeks."

"A hundred times she told me how grateful she was to me in the present and how much she loved me and her husband and her mother and sister. When we left her, she put $100 in a box for her to draw on."

"Mrs. Wakefield wrote me a letter five or six weeks ago when I was in a sanitarium, asking me to come to her home in San Francisco. She had not for a year ago, and I thought her motive was one of kindness and friendship."

"Soon after I arrived she told me that she was in love with my husband, and that he was in love with her."

"She said she would give me $100 a month for life and would see that my baby was well taken care of if I would divorce Rodney, so that she might marry him as soon as she secured a divorce from Mr. Wakefield."

"Ten days ago she and my husband both said they left it her or for a man and they left it her or for a man."

FULLER YIELDS TO RIVAL IN BALLOT LAW

"It is a trivial matter. Whatever my opponent desires in this matter is satisfactory to me."

With the above note, Lieutenant-Governor Alvan T. Fuller today informed the Ballot Law Commission that the fight over what words shall appear on the ballot opposite his name holds little concern for him.

Fuller originally asked that the words, "Present Lieutenant-Governor," United States Congressman, State Legislator," be used on the ballot to designate the office he has held. The secretary of State told him the words were too long to be printed conveniently, and Fuller accordingly asked that the designation be changed to "Present Lieutenant-Governor." Candidate for a second term.

Former Speaker today protested against the change and the Ballot Law Commission took the matter under advisement.

MAJESTIC'S ENGINES DELAY HER 12 HOURS

New York, Aug. 22.—The Majestic, largest ship afloat, which left Southampton for New York last Wednesday, is about twelve hours late, having been delayed because of repairs which had to be made at sea in her engine room. Officers of the White Star Line said today that the ship was not in serious trouble, and that she would reach port tomorrow morning. It was declared that the difficulty developed in Southampton in the bed of one of the big turbine engines.

MEDFORD BOYS NURSE BROKE, HELD; LOOT OF TOOK POISON, THOUSANDS FIRED BED

Seven small boys, whose years range from twelve to fifteen, were rounded up by Medford police today, charged with a large number of breaks in the most select residential section of that city.

The boys, whose names the police did not stand up and accuse the man, was taken to the court of justice, what was told me by the art himself. Until that time, my lips are closed.

"I visited Evelyn at Sheffield," he continued, "but I did so at the girl's own request. When Evelyn told me her father and mother were staying that she was afraid to let them know her father and mother, I was advised her to let her ruin her father and mother. I did what my minister would have done."

LOVE DIARY INDICATES SUICIDE PACT BY MAN AND GIRL

Out of the sea at Revere Beach today came two bodies—that of a man and a woman—and a diary.

In the diary, which is in possession of Medical Examiner Magrath, is the story of a strange pact of death, of a futile love and of a struggle against the conventions which could have but one end.

Strange circumstances surrounded the manner in which the body of the woman was found.

The body of the man was found floating about twenty feet out, near Condit's Dance Hall, at the lower end of the beach.

As her hair, white Medical Examiner Magrath was examining the body of the man, came the news that a woman's body had been found at Point Pease on the same beach about two miles further up.

The man is believed to be Andre Hallberg of No. 19 Oakland avenue, Everett. The woman has not yet been identified.

PHOTOGRAPH IN HAT.

In the bag of the man was found a Swedish passport, containing the woman's photograph and his signature. It was a gift.

The spot where his body was found is known as the South Circle of the beach. The woman's body was found on what is known as the North Circle.

The body of the woman was first noticed by Michael D. Madden of Oak Highland, he called over twelve-year-old Sidney Silverberg, of No. 668 Bedford, Beverly, and said:

"That looks like a body floating out there. Swim out and see."

"The hat swam out, and returned in a few minutes, frightened."

"It's a woman's body," the said. "It's dead. Touch it."

RETURNS WITH BODY.

At the moment an automobile passed, Madden called for assistance. A man leaped out of the automobile, dismounted himself of his suit.

HARDING BARS COAL MEN ON BOARD

Washington, Aug. 22.—President Harding's opposition to any Federal coal commission in which the coal operators or miners would be represented was made known at the White House following the Cabinet meeting. The administration, it was stated, will not consent to the creation of a commission in which the government does not have the balance of power and believes the public will be better served by a non-partisan body.

SCARLETT HOOVER GAY BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR JULIA

By a star-gazing margin the proverbial star has cheered Boston out of one of the gayest and happiest partying parties in the annals of the theatre.

In Springfield on August 23, 1893, the same star selected a wife and Mrs. Albert Skeet as the fortunate couple to receive a tiny bundle of sunshine and happiness labelled "Julia."

At the age of sixteen this same little Julia bethel herself to New York, obtained an opportunity to enable her charms before the footlights of the theatre. But not before she had, in conformity to the usual procedure at the time, changed her name from Julia Skeet to Julia Henderson.

Her debut was made at the Casino Theatre, New York, in "Winning Whirls." Upon the same stage where she registered her first success, she is just completing a triumphant run in "Tangerine."

The most brilliant birthday party in the history of the world of make-believe will be tendered to this same Julia, by her fellow players in "Tangerine" this evening.

Plays That Remain

TRIMONT THEATRE—Geo. M. Cohen's musical production, "Little Nellie Kelly," began its fourth week at the Trimont Theatre last night. The company of comedians, headed by Elizabeth Hines and the youthful, vivacious chorus, adheres well to the Cohen tradition.

WILBUR THEATRE—This will be the final week of "Love and Kisses" at the Wilbur, as it will open in New York on August 26. Two months' hits have been added to the score within the past few weeks.

SELWYN THEATRE—The musical success, "Shuffle Along," which began the fourth week of its Boston run at the Selwyn Theatre last night, continues to be one of the best offerings in the city. The splendid cast of non-musicians remains intact.

GERMANS WARN FRANCE MUST KEEP OUT

Berlin, Aug. 22.—German (Flotten) Minister Hans von Seebeck, in a speech at the Flotten Verein in which he said France would not relinquish her program to seize the Ruhr coal fields.

He then said down as a basic principle of the government the day that Germany would never consent to further military occupation of German soil by French troops.

Under no circumstances will the government agree to Allied seizure of the Ruhr basin coal mines and German state-owned forests as a platform for a moratorium.

The reported declaration of Hans von Seebeck was significant in view of the speech of Premier Poincaré of France at the La Dole in which he said France would not relinquish her program to seize the Ruhr coal fields.

SPIRITUALIST LEADER CAUGHT FLEEING WITH GIRL

ENTICED HER ON TRAIN

Married Man Followed 15-Year-Old Miss From Lake Pleasant Camp, Police Say

Greenfield, Aug. 22.—Accompanied by fifteen-year-old Irene Wakefield, whom he is charged with enticing from her home, Clarence Van Derhulst, Spiritualist leader and head of a family, was arrested at North Adams.

Not only did Van Derhulst induce the girl to accompany him, according to the police, but he also got her to pay his train fare out of her small hoard of $4.

Van Derhulst, who was recently convicted of perjury here and sentenced to a year in jail, was on probation under suspended sentence. He is one of the leaders at the Spiritist camp at Lake Pleasant.

The girl is employed in a Lake Pleasant confectionery store, where she is said to have made the acquaintance of the Spiritualist leader, who disappeared from her home and relative notified the authorities.

According to the police Van Derhulst saw the girl board a train at Lake Pleasant for Greenfield, and followed her. On the train he is supposed to have pretended he was surprised to see Irene, and a sitting beside her, engaged in conversation.

Then Van Derhulst, the police say, induced the girl to go with him to North Adams, but found he had no money. Irene paid the fare, it is charged.

The North Adams authorities had been notified and when the couple descended to the platform at that city, a deputy sheriff was waiting. The look Van Derhulst, who is married, into custody, and brought him down. The girl was sent back to Lake Pleasant.

Braggiotti Sisters Lead Six Best Dancers in Smart Set, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.
Miss Berthe Braggiotti.
Miss Frances Braggiotti.

WHICH possesses the "dancet" feel among Boston's smart set?

That's quite a question, but after due questioning, observation and deliberation, I've attempted to pick the six young women whose nimble feet have added the most jolity to many a fashionable function.

Right away, of course, I thought of the Braggiotti sisters—Berthe and Frances—wherever I put them at the head of our "best dancer" list.

The Misses Braggiotti, daughters of leaders Braggiotti of Upland road, Brookline, should need no introduction in these columns. Their terpsichorean talent is known not only to the fashionable contingent here, but also to that of New York, Washington and London, where they two very attractive girls have frequently danced for charity.

SOME time ago, as I suppose everyone recalls, the Braggiotti sisters joined the ranks of the "professionals." It was last winter that they appeared with the San Carlo Opera company when the latter organization made its brief stay in Boston. I remember very distinctly the beauty of Frances Braggiotti's lambent dance in "Aida."

Frances, with her wavy brown hair, her dark, expressive eyes and her vivid coloring, is just the type of person to do a lambent dance, requiring a good deal of dash and fire.

Then, at one of the matinee performances at the opera, the sisters together did their well-known "Reapers' Dance," which has gained considerable applause for their wherever they have given it.

Interesting towns do not fail to make their way to "East Hill," the gorgeous showplace of Mrs. William H. Schofield (Mary Lyon Cheney), who has done so much for Peterboro. There is no beautiful drive leading up to the house, which is white and of colonial architecture. Visitors to "East Hill" frequently see the small grandchildren of Mrs. Schofield playing about the terrace in front of their ancestral home. They are the children of Mrs. Schofield's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Kaufman (Elizabeth Cheney), who make their home during the winter months at No. 23 Marlboro street.

DURING the winter months Mrs. Katharine Thayer's work with the Immigration Board keeps her as busy as the summer months. She is just as actively engaged in Newport's gay social life.

The prominent Boston matron, whose town house is on Fairfield street, is an enthusiastic golfer and tennis player, as well as a charming hostess. On Monday she was among those entertaining at luncheon.

COLE'S LOVE FOR DANCER STIRS WIFE'S RAGE

William Cole, who staged an "abandon" suicide a week ago, and after being found resting comfortably in bed disappeared, is to be greeted with two developments in his affairs of the heart when he reappears.

The first is that "Wanda" Cole, who was Miss Beatrice Young, a chorus girl in the "Queen of the Moors" and "Alison" companies, is suing him for divorce and the other is that Miss Maud Lusk, Miss Cole's dancing partner in the "Love and Kisses" company, is through with him forever.

Cole "nearly" committed suicide when Miss Lusk wrote him a note telling him that she would not elope with him. The note was found in the young man's pocket when his coat was picked up on the banks of the Muddy River.

Young Cole married Miss Young in New York after a whirlwind courtship soon after he was discharged from the United States Marine Corps at the close of the war. According to the girl's aunt, who lives in Chelsea, the young husband did not support his bride and the matrimonial ship was soon on the rocks. Miss Young went back to her home and made her own living. She is now playing with a musical comedy in Toronto, Canada.

When Miss Lusk, in whom Cole had had ardent court, learned the details of her swimmer's marriage she declared she was through with him forever.

"OH, SALLY IN OUR ALLEY COULDN'T TOUCH A Candle to Her, Etc." Who lit the funeral candles in "Moonshine Alley," Lynn? Mrs. Sarah Gwartz says pretty Lena Barriano did out of spite. Lena says she did—but it was on her own steps. Mrs. S. swears that Lena also smudged her steps a dirty crepe color. Photo shows Lena with her famous candles.

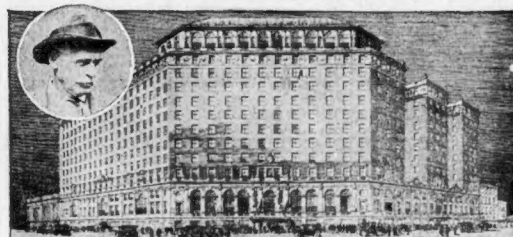

HOW'LL YUH HAVE YOUR OYSTERS?—Raw, Raw, Raw This might be the college choir of the girls attending the Harvard Summer School. But it isn't. These Rapture's fifty nymphs are athletically, the cleverest sport women now in America. The row is in France, getting ready for the big match there.

YOUNG WIFE FORCED TO UNDERGO HARDSHIPS When Major Nicholson Was Ordered to America! The army officer, charged with writing a letter to President Harding alleging fraud in the army, says that General Sladen ordered him from Coblenz, Germany, at a time when his wife, who was with him, was about to become a mother. He blames General Sladen for his troubles. When he returned, Major Nicholson adds, he found his wife, after many hardships, had made her way to Coblenz, where the baby was born. Photo shows Mrs. Nicholson and their baby, Antoinette, now eighteen months old. The major is before a board of inquiry at the army base.

In his first test he glided 1,000 meters without mishap, the machine attaining a height of 45 feet. A Farman biplane was awarded first prize. (International News Reel)

YOU HUG HER (OR HIM) UNDER THE RIBS And Then Let Go Quickly! Then repeat. This is an idea of how Captain Jack Wallace of the Boston Red Cross demonstrates the Schaeffer method of resuscitating drowning persons. This demonstration was made on the Common, with Francis C. Atkins of the Red Cross as the "victim," for the benefit of the kid swimmers.

DON'T FEEL MAD AS A Hatter About This Chic Little Hat! You can have one, too. It's very simple to make. This model, from Paris, of course, is fashioned of black satin about the crown, with black moire trimming adding that smart touch so much desired. Note the pleasing effect given by the arrangement of the folds of moire. There's a fashion hint on this page every day. (International News Reel)

TAXI BY AIR, SIX CENTS PER MILE
New York, Aug. 21.—It may be cheaper in the future to take an airplane from the South Station to the Adams House than it is to take a taxi, if the prophecy of Brigadier-General William Mitchell holds true. The general, who is assistant chief of the United States Air Service, declared that it would soon cost no more than six cents to transport one passenger one mile by air.

FLOOD OF BEER SUBSIDES IN JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 22.—Two arrests on charges of drunkenness in the last two days indicated the Johnstown flood of beer had subsided today.

Mayor Joseph Cuffley, who issued a proclamation that real beer must be sold, was not altogether satisfied with the fire he drew from the dry enforcement agents. Today he threatened to invoke a city ordinance which would give him authority to personally prosecute those he believes guilty of violating the prohibitory laws.

At the same time the Anti-Saloon League was taking action to determine the extent of the liquor traffic here. All saloon keepers emphatically repeated their statements the product they now dispense adheres strictly to the law and that the Mayor's boast did not cause them to fall into the trap.

Prohibition headquarters declared they were on the alert and that violators would be quickly punished.

MET, JONES EYES CATERED UP FOR OUTGERS

By ROBERT E. HARLOW.

New York, Aug. 22.—Bobby Jones is the name on ears most when the coming national amateur golf championship is discussed at points outside of the Boston and Chicago districts. Of course Boston thinks of the Boston and Chicago districts. Of course Boston thinks of the Boston and Chicago districts.

In 1913 Outmet lived across the street from the 17th fairway and was the open champion-ship after a memorable battle with Harry Vardon and Ted Ray. Boston people think and believe and with their money, that their popular idol, Francis Outmet, will win at Brookline. Of course Chicago can see nothing but Chick Evans. "Evans, the perfect golfer," as they tell folks who do not live in Chicago. Of course Evans is a really good and must be given due consideration in any event of a golfing nature.

But in touring about the most im- portant golfing center Bobby Jones has the biggest following. His fine work at Brookline, where he finished second in the open championship, did much to make him the favorite to win at the Brookline handicap.

JONES FIRST CHOICE OF NOTED PLAYERS

Walter Hagen, British open cham- pion; Gene Sarazen, American open champion; and George Davenport, the brilliant British professional now playing exhibitions in America, have all picked Jones as first choice. The professionals know that Jones has the edge and his friends know them strongly. They cannot see how such a fine player can be defeated. They realize Jones has been try- ing now for a number of years, so that he is no longer the "Bobby Jones" the boy player, but Robert T. Jones, the young man, who has won the way he played at Brookline and the way he played in his favor. Jones is 13 years old, and is coming through at Brookline.

Amateur golfers of the Pacific northwest who demonstrated a claim to national recognition last Fall when ten out of a dozen of the eleven qualified in the preliminary round and six of the nine in the final thirty-two and competed in the match play of the national cham- pionship at St. Louis, will expect to compete at Brookline, according to Guy M. Standford of Portland, Ore.

Standford was responsible for the appearance at St. Louis of such a large delegation of worthy amateurs from the Pacific northwest. Their entries at St. Louis made last year's amateur championship the most suc- cessful ever held.

GOLFERS WILL RALLY TO SUPPORT OF YON EIM

According to reports from George Yon Eim of Salt Lake City, and the foremost of the players from the Pacific northwest, planned to stay at Brookline. Standford is slow to believe re- ports that Yon Eim has been barred from amateur competition by the United States Golf Association. He states that Yon Eim has worked for a last sportsman's cause, but does not see how this would affect his amateur standing.

It was only last year that the United States Golf Association regis- tered as an amateur. Yon Eim was at the time and for many years previous been active in the game with the golf department of a sport- ing goods concern.

Standford says that Yon Eim is very popular in the Pacific North- west and if he has really been de- clared ineligible to compete in the amateur championship, the golfers of his section of the land will rally to his support with as much ardor as Massachusetts players rallied for Francis Outmet when the United States Golf Association railroad him out of the 1913 amateur cham- pionship at the Merion Cricket Club. Outmet expressed by many golf- ers in regard to the amateur ques- tion, players who are doing a day's work for a sporting goods concern, provided they are not engaged in giving instruction and should not be molested, but some of the amateurs who are making much money out of the game and at the same time, especially when someone be- lieves themselves put up the money are the ones who need attention.

Many New Methods Of Cheating in Golf.

One of the real evils exists in a crack amateur finding "a white egg" will be willing to make money matches for him, back his bets for large sums against professional players, and then turn up the money for a considerable part of the win- ning, provided the amateur comes through. If the crack amateur is de- feated, his backer has to take the loss.

There are the sort of violations of the spirit of the amateur cham- pionship that they fall for. The United States Golf Association would have the backing of all golfers of this character in the amateur cham- pionship. If the crack amateur is de- feated, his backer has to take the loss.

Toledo Mayor Says "No," on Dempsey Fight

By Universal Service.
Toledo, O., Aug. 22.—Efforts on the part of Adolph G. Thiecher, Toledo promoter who brought the Dempsey-Willard fight to Toledo, to stage the Dempsey-Brennan fight on Lab- or Day, struck a snag when Mayor Brough positively re- fused to permit the fight to be held here on Labor Day or any other date.

"Had the Dempsey-Brennan bout originally been scheduled for Toledo I undoubtedly would not have opposed it, but I re- fuse to make this city a dump- ing ground for a sporting spec- ulation," said Mayor Brough.

DORCHESTER IN WIN AGAINST ST. JOE'S

Dorchester made the trip to Lincoln Park, Bensenville, very much more while it is hummed the St. Joseph's Catholic Association on 7 to 3. This pastime was called after the tennis ball game and scored a run. How- ever, this didn't help them a whole lot, as the visiting club threw a most wicked curve off the well known pit and gathered in four al- most in the second inning.

"Mr. Jack Conway, Boston Ameri- can."

The proposed Willard-Dempsey bout has re-kindled a friendly argu- ment between two townsmen. Placing his "roll" on the wrong man in- stead of "A" to claim that Willard never fought a first round, and to re- son that Johnson chose between the count and a rough box. He con- cludes further that if Willard defeats Dempsey, Willard isn't man enough to face the winner unless his finances are low.

"Mr. B. Ferner believes that Will- ard's victory, aided by Johnson as- suming the offensive, decided the fight. He asserts the Kansas' por- showing as a champ was due to the lack of suitable opponents. "It is positive that Willard would win a return match with Dempsey and that he would be the only man, in the event of a Willard victory, to drop in and again bring back the title to the only man that has ever won the local group store."

"You're in error."

Willard entered ring during the White Horse Grays.

Now that we have listened to the opinion, we shall try to give our decision. We don't spare the feel- ings of the editors of any of the fighters in dispute.

Willard entered the ring game as a result of the white horse grays. The majority of light fans were anxious to see Jack Johnson, conqueror of the world, and he was not to be de- ceived. And they didn't care a whole lot who performed this feat, as long as he was a white man.

Willard, after defeating a back of second and third rounds, finally man- aged to get a match with Johnson at Havana City. He was not to be de- ceived. And they didn't care a whole lot who performed this feat, as long as he was a white man.

NOTED BOSTON SKIPPERS NOVEL RACE

Thomas, Oct. 10, Aug. 22.—Charles Francis Adams, who called the Pres- ident "a white man," also won the Ameri- can's Cup two years ago when he sailed the Star under the Royal Canadian Yacht Club course on Lake Ontario, will call the Pa- trona in the first of the sporting series six races between the Star and the Royal Canadian Yacht Club.

The race was the outcome of a suggestion by Commodore George H. Goodwin of the R. C. Y. C. late last summer that the respective clubs hold a series of races, the most- ing crews to both crews. Adams, one of the best known skippers on the American continent, brought along as his crew Arthur Adams, Charles E. Cutting, Reginald C. Foster, Carl Loring and James H. West. A highly assembled bunch of racemen, who have been racing since last summer, and have an- other big race scheduled for to- morrow in Boston.

Norman Goodwin, a much younger skipper than Adams, was man- aged by the R. C. Y. C. M. C. to race against the Star. Adams' crew will be under Masnie, Stanley Winslow, Walter Winslow, Jack Loring and Gordon Cas- sella.

READVILLE HAS BEST HORSES ENTERED

The management of the Grand Circuit race meeting at Readville last week announces that Mar- garet Dillon, 1934, the fastest mare of New England, will race on the opening day. She will be a starter in the free-wheeling race.

Listed also upon the opening day is the 208 trot, in which McGovern the Great, 1934, will start and will meet a field of the greatest trotters which the present racing season has developed.

In breaking off of a clutch Will- ard hooked with his left to the body and then brought his right to the chin, which forced Jackson and he lay on the last for the count.

Willard appeared to be in a wonder- ful condition. He weighed 212 pounds and Jackson, 217.

Willard will fight "Tut" Jackson, another knockout artist, on August 29 at Elmore Field, Brooklyn.

OFFICER COACHES GENERAL STAFF

Major Nicholson Declares He Speaks for Many Young Officers Who Are Afraid to Talk

Major Malcolm Wheeler Nicholson, U. S. cavalry, took the witness stand today before the Army Board of Inquiry that is hearing his case at the army base and declared that the regular army of the United States was surely in need of a "thorough shaking down and housecleaning."

In making the charges that I have against the army I have had this in mind and have been doing everything in my power to make the defects in the system. A little change of officers run the army as they wish. It is my opinion that the general staff is riding for a fall. Certain officers are discriminated against and persecuted as I have been persecuted. I feel that it is my duty to expose conditions that are deplorable.

The general staff is the root of all trouble. It is responsible for the defects in the system. A little change of officers run the army as they wish. It is my opinion that the general staff is riding for a fall. Certain officers are discriminated against and persecuted as I have been persecuted. I feel that it is my duty to expose conditions that are deplorable.
